

Writing

This photograph is of a rainforest hut in the Eden Project but it could be anywhere...

I would like you to describe it as part of a story opening (you could write the rest of the story too if you want). We are going to focus on paragraphing so, before you start:

- Think about the mood you want to create and how this will affect the way your paragraphs are organised.
- Remember, you are writing a description so lots of action or dialogue will take away from the description of your setting.
- Think about the details you describe and the vocabulary you will use to describe them. Are they consistent with the mood you wanted to create? Remember, the more ideas you have now, the more developed your paragraphs will be.
- How will you create links within and between your paragraphs?
- Think about how you open each paragraph. How will you keep it interesting?
