De quelle couleur est-ce?	What colour is it?

Helpful hints

Est-ce is "is it", with the inversion of verb and pronoun to make a question, just like in English. It's pronounced, "ess".
"De" means "of", so "De quelle couleur est-ce?" is literally translated as Of what colour is it?

French verb conjugations change based on the subject pronoun, unlike English where the verb form generally stays the same.

English: I have, you have (same verb form)

French: J'ai -I have Tu as -You have
